

THE UNIVERSITY of ADELAIDE

Generalist and music teachers' understandings and experience of music education in primary schools

Are you a classroom (generalist) teacher OR a music specialist teacher?
We would like to invite you to participate in our research.

The aim of this study is to explore teachers' perceptions of the benefits of learning music, and the barriers and/or facilitators they experience in delivering it.

Participation is voluntary and involves up to 60 minutes of your time for a face-face or telephone interview

Your participation could assist in providing a greater understanding of teachers' experiences of delivering music in the context of the Australian Curriculum

Are you eligible? You must be a classroom or specialist music teacher teaching within years 3-7, and you must have taught for at least one year. Also you must have taught within the last twelve months.

To find out more and to get involved, please contact
Ms Kristina Phillipson
kristina.phillipson@student.adelaide.edu.au or Dr Clemence Due, clemence.due@adelaide.edu.au or 8318 60896

Please feel free to pass this flyer on to anyone you feel would be interested in participating.